CCMA MEMBER TO ENTER SEMINARY THIS YEAR

INTERVIEW WITH TERRY MARMION

How did you get involved in campus ministry?

I went into campus ministry right after graduation from college in North Carolina where I was heavily involved in the Newman ministry there. When I took the job at Southern Illinois University, I had never worked professionally in ministry before. Our Director told me to go to LAUNCH, CCMA's training for new campus ministers.

LAUNCH was super because it gave me peers to share ideas with and bounce ideas off of. Being there, and going through the training, I realized everyone had struggles with students; it wasn't just me. I felt relief and had a sense that I wasn't a failure- I know what I'm doing.

How did being a campus minister impact your discernment process?

The more I worked in campus ministry the more I got to interact with priests. I saw the lifestyle, how interesting and how cool it was. In fundraising for our campus ministry, I got to meet a lot of people outside of Carbondale. What put me over the edge was how much these people love the Lord. They want the Sacraments and they need more priests.

What has CCMA done taught you over the years?

CCMA has encouraged me in a number of ways. I learned at my first training that you have to find a way to love everything you do. You have to find a way to love cooking a meal for students, or eventually you will not love doing this. If you become stagnated and you don't come to love it, you will burn out. Campus ministry is a slow grind, but the most fun thing is walking with students. The biggest thing for me is that I give people the time of day.

Terry will enter Seminary for the Diocese of Belleville in August. Please keep him in your prayers as he continues his Catholic vocational journey.

MEET CCMA'S NEW EPISCOPAL MODERATOR

EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2022

CCMA benefits from the participation and support of our Bishops. Each year, one is chosen to serve as the "Episcopal Moderator", a guide and wisdom figure for the Association. CCMA welcomes Archbishop Bernard Hebda of the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis, as its new Moderator.

"Having benefited from excellent campus ministry when I was a student, and having experienced both the excitement and the challenges of campus ministry early in my priesthood, I see the Church's apostolic outreach on campus as being vitally important. I am extremely grateful to have this opportunity to collaborate in CCMA's work in support of campus ministers and the students that they so generously serve."

- Archbishop Bernard Hebda

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A CELEBRITY TO BE AN INFLUENCER

BY LARA GIGANDET

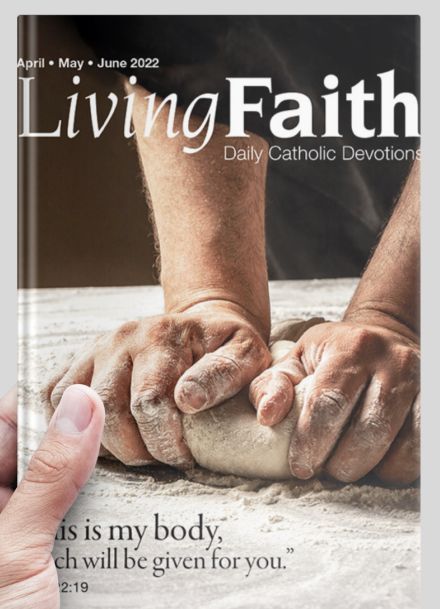

We invite you to this exciting opportunity to join CCMA's monthly giving program and becoming a Campus Influencer. You may not be an Instagram star(or you might be!), but you still can make a BIG difference in our work on college campuses.

When you join at ccmanetwork.org/support, you will receive a Living Faith daily devotional in the mail. As a Campus Influencer, you will receive a specific Catholic campus ministry center to pray for. We ask that you pray for that particular campus and we will be sharing GLORY stories from that campus with you as they come to our attention.

Thank you for saying yes to the Church's mission on Campus. Your prayers and support are truly making a difference!!

EACH CAMPUS INFLUENCER RECEIVES A COMPLIMENTARY DEVOTIONAL

"Whoever sows bountifully, will also reap bountifully"
-2 Corinthians 9:6

WHAT DO WE DO?

- Equip campus ministers to bring the Gospel of Jesus Christ to every corner of the university.
- CCMA membership connects campus ministers with 600+ professional peers around the country.
- Provide training, professional development, visionary leadership, standards of excellence, and practical resources so that they may reach more students for Christ and the Church.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE RECAP

Our national conference (CALLED22), took place in San Antonio from May 24-26 with over 200 in attendance.

Featuring three dynamic keynotes, 18 practical workshops and plenty of intentional networking moments among the over 200 attendees, CALLED22 was truly spectacular!

“

“CALLED22 fired up my faith again. Where I’m often in charge of each spiritual event in my profession, I was finally able to sit back, breathe, and not have to be in control. My faith and my profession came alive again.”

BECAUSE OF YOU, KANUL ENTERED THE CHURCH

Kanul Das' campus minister, Terry Marmion (more about him in the featured article on the front cover) attended a CCMA training event where he learned about the importance of reaching out to different cultures on campus. He was encouraged to have a presence at the International Coffee Houses and events held by student groups, rather than reinventing the wheel himself. It was at one of these events that Terry met Kanul and invited him to the Newman center.

Though Kanul initially came for the free food, as many students do, he came back because he found the love for which he was searching. He hung out casually for some time but then made the leap to attend a Renewal Retreat for students. It was there He learned about the Resurrection and the love Jesus has for him specifically. He decided to become Catholic and join the Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults through his local campus ministry.

It is because of donors like you that the Gospel is reaching across cultural boundaries and into every corner of the university. Thank you!
